

Choosing a real estate agent ?

Mike Higginbotham

A simple idea – always put the client first!

RealConnections

Mike is invested in our community and its future. He is a native of the Birmingham area and received a B.S and Master of Public Administration degree from UAB. Mike and his wife Lisa have one son, Joshua, born in February of 2004. They own a great home in Homewood's Forest Brook neighborhood, and they attend All Saints Episcopal Church. Like you, Mike truly understands the importance of living your dreams, and he will always put his client first in buying or selling their home.

RealCommunity

Mike has spent a lifetime using his time and talents to help make the world a little better place. He worked thirteen years as an employee with Jefferson County, helping the public resolve problems and trying to clean up our air and stop litter. Mike has volunteered over the years as a Neighborhood and Community president and on numerous boards, including the Board of the Homewood Public Library, the local Mental Health Authority, the Regional Planning Commission and many others. He is currently serving as President of his community group in Forest Brook and is the Founder and Administrator for the West Homewood Facebook Page (www.facebook.com/west.homewood).

RealService

You have many choices as you pick an agent. I pledge to deal with you honestly and fairly, and I will commit to always work as hard for you and your family as I would for my own. This is an important decision, so I strongly encourage you to choose a person you feel you can trust – I hope that will be me!

Thanks for your consideration,
